AS and VS Events are externally triggered signals.
AP and VP are internally triggered signals.

 Note that these states are representative and transient, and for display purposes only. In practice they should be 'short-circuited', the inbound transition connections attached to the sole outbound transition destination state.